Save Money Where Your Customers Save Their Money

When most people think of banks, they think of the images you see here on this brochure: austere buildings, quiet lobbies, and impenetrable vaults. And while those are certainly part of most banking operations, there's a great deal to the banking industry that most customers don't see.

MS Consultants, LLC has conducted many Cost Segregation Studies on all types of bank facilities. Not only the bank branches, but also data centers, the corporate offices, the backroom operation centers, & more.

Each type of bank property has unique construction qualities that can generate large amounts of savings. Bank branches have a great deal of decorative millwork and finish carpentry, site improvements, communications equipment, and the bank vault system itself. Data centers, disaster recovery centers, and offices have even more special electric and communications equipment. Corporate offices, like all office buildings, offer a wide mix of a variety of personal property.

Let MS Consultants, LLC's wide-ranging experience in the banking industry go to work for you. Call us at 877-633-9840, or email us at info@costsegs.com to learn more about the kind of tax savings we could find in your banking properties.
